Expense Policy & Prior Month Summary

1. Capitalization Policy

Any single physical asset with a unit price of $2,400.00 or greater MUST be classified as a Capital Expenditure. If a single check or invoice contains both capital assets and non-capital consumables, the amounts must be split and capitalized appropriately. Near-misses (e.g., items costing $2,399) remain classified as standard supplies or consumables.

2. Returned Items (NSF)

When a customer check bounces, the bank typically issues a combined debit for the returned check amount plus a returned item fee. GreenPath's bank charges a flat $15.00 NSF fee per returned item. During reconciliation, you must split any combined NSF debit into two parts: a $15.00 bank fee expense, and a revenue reversal for the remainder.
